

THE LUPPITT PACKET

Welcome to our November edition of the Luppitt Packet. Were you fortunate to join in with some of the marvellous recent local events? While assembling this edition of the magazine we have been reminded again how lucky we are, for life is good when we make time to think about others, and even better when we take an opportunity to help people as well. We have a few updates on how the kind people of Luppitt have enjoyed themselves supporting many important causes over the last few months, from Blood Bikes to Playground Projects.

Thank you to Sue Hurst for this month's cover art. Sue is now retiring from our team of cover artists, so a big thank you from us for providing so many superb pictures.

Serving: Luppitt, Beacon, Shaugh, Shelvin and Wick

REMEMBRANCE

As poignant as town and city war memorials are, it's perhaps in the landscape where we feel the loss most keenly. It is partly about what we are used to. We expect most towns to have a war memorial somewhere prominent, we're accustomed to seeing them, and on remembrance Sunday we know what we will be seeing there. But when you come across a memorial that is threaded into the countryside as in Luppitt, it is a jolt. It demands attention. It causes a pause, as you read the names, and learn why this place was special to them, or why this memorial was put here. And that's what war memorials are often about; a sense of place.

The Cenotaph is a fine, dignified focal point for the nation's Remembrance. Remembering the fallen in the Great War, WW2, Korea, Balkans, South Falklands. Kuwait. Atlantic. Afghanistan and many other conflicts and wars too numerous to mention. But it can't possibly show you the ordinary lives and localities of the hundreds of thousands who never came home. The farmers, miners, publicans. mill workers. doctors, school teachers; people who have never set foot in Whitehall.

So when you wander past the Luppitt memorial and any other memorial in the countryside, you instantly feel the hugeness of the scale, and see how the wars reached across the whole country with its tendrils of fear and grief. It also indicates to you what they were fighting for. The view. The landscape. Peace.

The sentiment is highlighted when you read Laurence Binyon's poem' For the Fallen'. These famous lines:

"They shall grow not old, as we that are left grow old: Age shall not weary them, nor the years condemn. At the going down of the sun and in the morning We will remember them."

NATIONAL TRUST UPDATE: DUMPDON HILL FORT

A National Dormouse Monitoring Programme nest box scheme was established at the Hill Fort in October 2019 and our first dormouse nest was found one month later which was a very promising start. Unfortunately, we were unable to monitor the boxes in 2020 due to the pandemic however we started monitoring the boxes again this spring. Dormice have been recorded every month throughout the survey season and a litter of four babies was recorded in August. The sex, weight, age class and breeding condition of each dormouse was carefully recorded in the field and then entered in the national Whilst the boxes are database. intended for use by dormice, they are often used by other opportunistic species and this year the team have recorded bank voles, shrews, wood mice and birds in the boxes. Dormice are a protected species so the surveys are carried out by dormice licence holders: given the success of the scheme at the site. Dumpdon Hill fort has become a training venue for National Trust rangers and ecologists hoping to gain their dormouse licence.

In March 2021, 30 bird nest boxes were installed on site and these were inspected regularly bv local volunteers as part of the Nest Record Scheme (NRS), the British Trust for Ornithology's nationwide survey of nesting birds. The survey involved checking the boxes to monitor the breeding success of birds recording whether а nest was present, counting the number of eggs laid, and monitoring the progress of any hatchlings as well as deceased chicks or failed eggs. After a strong start to the season, the prolonged cold and wet weather appear to take its toll on bird populations across Dumpdon Hill Fort. The delayed start to the spring disrupted the nest building, and several boxes showing the early signs that nest construction had failed to progress. The poor weather conditions caused further problems for some species as the cold weather caused food shortages meaning there wasn't enough food available to feed their chicks. At Dumpdon, nine boxes recorded some nest activity with three nests (two great tits and one coal tit) progressing beyond the building phase. A total of 16 eggs were laid in these three nests and 11 chicks were recorded. Whilst the nest boxes provide additional nesting sites for small birds, the mixed habitat of Dumpdon Hill Fort provides lots of natural features suitable for other birds too. Woodpeckers, spotted flycatcher and skylark nests were observed away from these boxes by local volunteers.

A butterfly survey was launched at Dumpdon Hill Fort in April 2021 as part of the UK National Butterfly Monitoring scheme. Once a week for 26 weeks. local volunteers walked the same transect (weather permitting) recordina butterfly species and numbers. 18 species of butterflies were recorded at the site and a total of 724 butterflies were recorded in total. The meadow brown butterfly was the most frequently observed with a total of 341 sightings recorded. The comma butterfly was the least common species recorded with only one observation recorded within the transect.

It's the first year we have run the survey at the site therefore we can't make any direct comparisons to previous years however casual observations suggest that butterfly populations have also had a difficult time this year due to the weather.

The monitoring of wildlife at the Hill Fort over the year has been a fantastic team effort, and the East Devon Countryside ranger team would like to say a huge thank you to all of the volunteers that have contributed to these surveys over the year!

Now that winter has arrived, the National Trust ranger team will be pushing forward with their habitat management and archaeological conservation works. This work will involve removing some scrub and sapling growth on the ramparts to the north of the site and clearing the fence lines so that the boundary fence can be replaced.

We will be hosting scrub bashing events at Dumpdon on the Sunday 21st November and Sunday 12th December so if you would like to get involved in our work at the Hill Fort please contact:

A Luppitt Stroll

One of the things I appreciate most about walking in the area around Luppitt, is its timelessness. Landscapes do change, but slowly and subtly, and great walks remain great walks full stop. While the world seems rammed with urgency and pressing calls to action, walking lets you breathe, relax and enjoy your time on your terms. Except (and isn't there always an exception?) in autumn.

This spectacular season has a perilously short sell by date, procrastinate and you will miss it. You start to make plans for a walk, the leaves begin to change, then there is an overnight gale that strips the trees and you wake up in winter. So apologies this is an urgent message seize the season, don't miss it

Turning left out of my gate, I head up the hill passing Mount Stephens cross. Stretching out along church hill lane towards the crossroads, passing Gulley lane on my right. I cross over the junction heading towards Lakeview manor. Just before Lakeview manor there is a public footpath to my left. Before going through the gate, I hear a cacophony of noise, the migration of birds. Britain is the Heathrow of the avian world, slap under a busy migration route with birds flying every which way. Autumn sees some in transit, some packing up to depart for warmer climes, some pitching up from icier spots up north. Wandering along the well maintained footpath, there is a forest to my right, a dense wood with many types of trees, I would love to identify. I am heading for another wood, and meander along the footpath, reaching a stile into a small field. Crossing the field there is a choice, turn right on a footpath to Dunkeswell or go forward into a long and narrow wood. I head for the wood.

Some people call this the Rhododendron wood. In spring it has a narrow alley full of blue and Purple Rhododendrons at its lower level. Today I look up at the golden canopy. I am taking in the golden rays of autumn and the ominous creep of twilight, the shimmer of the countryside at its ripest. The trees are putting on their flamboyant farewell. There is a crunch underfoot, and I never tire of kicking leaves. The top crust is a mosaic of copper, gold and tan. Below lies a mahogany mulch of older leafs. I wander through the wood for around twenty minutes, and eventually reach the gate leading to Long lane. I decide I have reached the furthest point of my walk, I decide to turn around and head back to Luppitt.

Each season brings with it a tapestry of new sound, colours and textures. For me, winter is dominated by changing skies and frosts, spring by new life and wild flowers, summer by overblown growth and hopefully sunshine. Autumn is my favourite. It belongs to broadleaf trees. It is a time of outstanding beauty, when the natural world treats us to a last burst of colour before winter.. Stunning shades of russet, red, yellow, ochre, black, orange and brown. We are incredibly lucky to live close to these woodland wonderlands in Autumn.

OTTER VALLEY RESIDENTS URGED TO BACK BEAVERS

Devon Wildlife Trust is advising East Devon residents on how they can have a say on the future of beavers in our countryside

The government has launched a public consultation on the future of beaver introductions in England.

The way the consultation is designed means the most likely responses will be from stakeholders who have a particular interest in how the presence of beavers in our rivers could affect them directly – anglers and farmers, for example.

But every resident of villages and towns along the River Otter and its tributaries also deserves a voice in this consultation on the future of beavers. Local people have been living alongside beavers for around a decade now.

The science and evidence gained from the 5-year River Otter Beaver Trial demonstrated the benefits beavers have brought to the River Otter. Beaver activity has helped reduce flood risk in villages downstream of their dams. increased diversity and abundance of other wildlife and has also improved water quality, thanks to beaver dams trapping sediment washed watercourses.

Where beaver dams have caused localised problems for landowners, DWT has demonstrated practical solutions to reducing water levels so the landscape can continue to be shared by beavers and people without conflict.

Beaver-watching near Otterton has become an annual summer activity, with locals and visitors enjoying the experience of being among the first people to see beavers in an English river for hundreds of years. Many such visitors also spend money with local businesses on food, drinks and accommodation.

It is important that all these aspects of local people's experience of living alongside beavers is featured in responses to the government's consultation.

But as the online consultation is not especially easy to navigate, Devon Wildlife Trust has produced the following guidance on submitting a response, so the government hears the voices of East Devon residents who have lived alongside beavers for years.

DWT's Director of Nature Recovery Pete Burgess said: "It is vitally important that we reintroduce beavers in a planned, responsible way, and that we have a toolkit of management techniques available, so we know exactly how to deal with issues if they arise. To maximise the benefits beavers can bring, we need to continue to provide advice and support for farmers and landowners and provide grants for those who allow more space for water on their land. The launch of the public consultation is the start of a vitally important conversation about the future of these once widespread animals, and we would urge everyone to share their views about the future of beavers in the English landscape."

DWT is asking everyone to respond to the consultation around four key asks which we believe are necessary for the safe return of beavers in the wild.

To formally recognise beavers as a resident native species in England, as has already been done in Scotland.

To ensure beaver populations thrive in the wild by supporting carefully targeted reintroduction projects, bolstering populations where necessary to ensure their long-term health.

To help landowners to make space for watercourses and wetlands created by beavers by providing appropriate schemes and funding programmes.

To support local beaver management groups who can provide advice, support and practical solutions to ensure beavers and people can share our landscape once again.

The government consultation runs until 17 November and is online at https://consult.defra.gov.uk/naturalenvironment-policy/beaverreintroduction-and-management/

LUPPITT PLAYGROUND PROJECT

We were so pleased to welcome over 120 people to our Big Breakfast fundraiser on Sunday 17 October. We have received some really lovely feedback about the event and were utterly delighted to make £1326.30 on the day (including some contributions to the sponsored walk). It was a figure that exceeded all expectations, so thank you Luppitt!

Our www.crowdfunder.co.uk project has now raised in excess of £3000, which makes us eligible for grants from both East Devon District Council and Devon County Council. If successful we hope these grants will take us very close to the £12,000 crowdfunder target. Separately to the crowdfunder project we have also been very lucky to receive a £1000 grant from Councillor Iain Chubb and £200 from the Honiton Lions Club.

It is very exciting to think that the playground really may happen in Spring 2022.

A huge thank you to all the sponsors for Big Breakfast food donations and raffle prizes, which allowed us to maximise profits. Local small businesses and individuals include Highfield Stores, Pearl Pulman, Viceroy Tawa, John Thorne, Wilfred and Elizabeth Tratt, Lakeview Manor, the Grazing Cow, Milkshed Catering, Ganesha Whole Foods, Bakers of Honiton, Hillside Farm, the Chown Family, Rumwell Farm Shop, the Yellow Deli, Otter Brewery and Hillview Floristry. And let's not forget these large household names: ALDI, Marks & Spencer, LIDL, Tesco, Sainsbury's, Iceland, Spar, W.H. Smith and Riverford Organics.

A special thank you must go to Steve Berry and Maggie Oliver who helped us with the hall set-up throughout and also the clear-up operation on Sunday.

Photos of our happy breakfast goers are sadly limited as we were all too busy cooking, washing up, waitressing walking! However. Eve Vergano who led the kitchen team managed to take this shot of Rosie Tucker Adam Crabb (cunningly escaping a photo of herself!).

NORMAN'S TALES

The Pulman family have lived in and around Luppitt for centuries. It is thought they may have come here during the Norman Conquest. The Devon historian WG Hoskins records that his ancestor. George Hoskvns. married Margaret, the daughter of John Pulman – yeoman of Luppitt – on 9 February 1548 when he was barely 21 years old. In 1585 the Hoskyns's moved to Luppitt and probably lived at Overday. There is interesting inventory George's goods and chattels on page 36 of John Sage's Luppitt Parish, Church, and People.

One thing is for certain, the Pulman family have shown themselves to be extremely capable builders and farmers, and many of them have been stonemasons.

Norman Pulman is probably the oldest member of the family and here are some of his memories.

"My great-grandparents lived at Rye Park. Great-grandfather Jim bought Honeywells as a ruin and rebuilt it. I remember him giving me a silver sixpence. I wish I had kept it!

My grandfather was born at Braddicks (opposite Barbers Farm) and became a keen builder. The cottages at Franklyns burnt down in the 1930s. He bought them as ruins and made them into two cottages. A builders' yard (R. Pulman & Sons) was set up on Wingate Hill, and he built himself a bungalow there called Sunnyside.

Dad was born at Meshayes and became a carpenter (nicknamed 'Ridgy'). He helped build Dunkeswell Airfield during the Second World War.

Work finished on this project in 1943 and he was called up. He served in the Medical Corps, landing in Normandy on D Day+6. He remembered driving a 3-ton truck across a pontoon! He had to drive in low gear as if he was going uphill – tricky! In 1945 he was demobbed and returned to work as a carpenter.

I was born at Pulshayes (now holiday lets) on 3 July 1930, my parents having been married at Combe Raleigh church. We shared the house with my Uncle William. He then moved to the larger, more productive Gorwell Farm, and we went to Combe Raleigh Mill House Farm; my sisters, Audy and Christine, arrived during the war. Unfortunately. we contracted measles, and baby Christine died. My mother was heartbroken and unable to cope, so we moved in with my grandparents at Allerbeare Farm, Combe Raleigh, until she was better.

I went to Combe Raleigh School. The head teacher was a Welsh lady called Mrs Lodwick. I was friendly with her son Gareth, and her husband Gaff worked for Grandad Pulman. I did not find school easy, as although I am able to read anything I find it difficult to arrange words on paper (dyslexia was not recognised in those days).

When I was 12, we moved to No. 1 Franklins Cottages, so I changed to Luppitt School. I walked to school each day or cycled, leaving my bike at Dolish Farm. I remember Mrs Stamp, who lived at Appletrees, had a habit of throwing her dishwater out of the door on to the road. It could be extremely dangerous if you happened to be passing at the time!

I had a happier relationship with my new head teacher, Miss Simpson, as she was a grumbler rather than a cane user! The Misses Simpsons had been there for years. One of them even taught Dad. I remember the three Bartlett girls from Lowmans, Hazel Norton from Pound and the Farmer boys from Bywood. Just before I left school, at 14, a new infant teacher started, Miss Olive Sage!

I returned to Allerbeare Farm to work for Granddad. There were no tractors on the farm, only horses. Vic Braddick from Shelvin cared for them. The mare usually produced a foal each year, and Vic enjoyed preparing them for Honiton Show, which was always a highlight in the calendar.

Dad bought land around Franklyns and built a bungalow, Franklyns Farm. Granddad died in the 1950s and the remaining properties were sold. The bungalow went to Mr and Mrs Rosewell. The larger Greenway Farm was purchased with the proceeds. It was very run down, so Dad set to work rebuilding and tractor-driving. I drove the lorry and Mum milked the Jersey cows. A young lady from Smithenhayes, who was 11 years younger than me, came to help with the milking, Barbara Manley – my Barbara!"

BLOODY BIKERS INVADE VILLAGE HALL

Visitors walking into the village hall hub pub were surprised to see an impressively large motorbike with high-vis markings and blue lights.

Two volunteer riders from the Devon Freewheelers had joined us for the evening to accept a cheque for £75, money raised at the Village Reunion event earlier this summer. It was great to hear about their work and one intrepid resident seized the opportunity to climb on and see the view from behind the handlebars.

"I'll have a pint of type O, please"... you never know whom you might meet at the hub pub on a Wednesday or Friday evening!

POETS CORNER

This poem was shared by Joy Tofts for our November edition in relation to Remembrance Sunday.

WHO ARE THESE MEN?

Who are these men who stand so proud, who quietly weep, eyes closed, head bowed? These are the men who once were boys who missed out on youth and all its joys.

Who are these men, with aged faces, who silently count the empty spaces? These are the men who gave their all, who fought for their country, for freedom for all.

Who are these men with sorrowful look who still can remember the lives that were took? These are the men who saw young men die. The price of peace is always high.

Who are these men who in the midst of pain whispered comfort to those who they would not see again. These are the men who's hands held tomorrow. Who bought back our future, with blood, tears and sorrow.

Who are these men who promise to keep alive in their hearts the ones God holds asleep. These are the men to whom I promise again, veterans, my friends, I Will Remember Them.

Written by a 12 year old girl in 1966

UPOTTERY SCHOOL

From the Headmaster's desk

We continue to be delighted by the children's positive and purposeful attitude towards their learning, after returning for the start of this year. This week, year 6 have been learning the rules of the road, as part of their 'Bikability' course, which teaches older primary aged children about cycling and road safety in a practical and fun way. Of course, this is usually a provision for year 5 pupils, however as this was not possible last year, it has been super to ensure our current year 6 children did not miss out. The instructors were extremely impressed by not only the children's ability, but also by their attitude and respect for what they were being shown. Well done to all our year 6 students; you have demonstrated a super example to the younger years this week, and you are all a credit to our school.

We are in the process of appointing a new Parent Governor. We would like to thank all of those parents and carers who expressed an interest. It is wonderful to see so much support from our school community for such a vital role. It is very encouraging to see so many people putting themselves forward, with such a keen interest, and wanting to make a difference for the children here at Upottery Primary School.

Thank you to all those who have completed the online form giving consent and numbers for next weeks Harvest Festival. We fully understand that in picking a time and date for an event such as this, we will always struggle to be able to accommodate everyone, however we have done our best to make sure that as many adults are able to attend. We would therefore like to thank you all for your patience, understanding and support around this. Since issuing the online form, we have had contact with the church who have informed us that due to very recent, unforeseen circumstances, currently the church is only accessible via thé small, side door. Having added this factor into our risk assessment for the service, we have decided that we will now be holding both services in the school hall. This will ensure that we are able to keep everyone as safe as possible both as part of our covid risk assessment, along with our wider risk assessment, which accounts for other risk factors, such as having to evacuate the space safely in the unlikely event of an emergency. Again, we thank you in advance for your understanding around this. Apart from the venue, all other arrangements for the services on Wednesday 13th remain the same. We would all like to again thank the church for their very generous offer of use, and we hope that we will be able to make use of this for next years Harvest.

Finally, many of you will be aware of the covid cases here in East Devon, particularly in our school and educational settings. While we are getting back to a more regular school routine, it is still important to be cautious and to follow guidance. Therefore, to reiterate this: if a child or family member is symptomatic, they should isolate and get a PCR test. It is important to stress this is a PCR test not LFD test. Household members should also isolate unless they are fully vaccinated or under the age of 18 years 6 months. If a positive result comes from a LFD test then the case should take a confirmatory PCR test within 48hrs of the LFD test, and follow the above guidance.

In making sure we continue to follow and abide by the above, we will all continue to do what we can as a school community to minimise disruption and keep as safe as possible at the current time. Thank you for your continued support with this.

Mr Legg

FROM REV PENN'S PEN

The six parishes of our mission community (Broadhembury, Dunkeswell, Luppitt, Plymtree, Sheldon, Upottery) are in a strange position. Our rector has resigned and as he told us in his last letter, his tenure ends in the middle of the month. So we find ourselves facing and trying to plan for a vacancy. We are not quite sure what plans the diocese has for us; and for myself, as a two days a week associate priest, I don't have the time or authority to pick up much of the rectors work.

It feels a little as though we're entering an ecclesial limbo land. The past way of church here changing as John leaves us and the future still a dawning and unknown reality. And as I said at the start it's a strange position to be in. John has gone - but not yet. The diocese will let us know their plans for us – but not yet.

It struck me that this is not unlike the place Christians are living in – the 'now' and 'not yet' of God's kingdom here on earth. We had the old way of living, before Jesus walked on the earth some 2,000yrs ago and more recently as individuals before we began to journey with Jesus . ? .yrs ago. We see signs of God's kingdom here among us and yet we know that there is more to come, we are still waiting for God's kingdom to come in all its fullness.

However there is always plenty to do, it's not a time for sitting around twiddling our thumbs and saying 'we're waiting for God's kingdom to come' of course we are waiting for that to happen meantime there's some old junk to clear out and some new skills to unpack. There are some new paths to explore if you look for them and there are always new people to meet and build relationships with.

A retired priest in one of our parishes recently said to me that a bishop in one of the diocese he used to work in said that during a vacancy a church should grow as it could now do anything it wanted completely freed of any restraint an incumbent might have put on it!

I am looking forward to continuing the journey with you.

Rev Jane Penn

LESLEY'S LEAP OF FAITH

When someone asked at a Luppitt do "Is there anyone here who is willing to do a tandem sky jump to raise money for the church?" there was a deathly hush and everyone was probably thinking, bugger that, not me! Well, everyone except Lesley Goode. On the spur of the moment up went her hand and before she realised what she had done Joy stuck a £20 note in her hand and said: "Here you go, you can't back down now."

Sponsors came forward and money was donated so there was no going back. Friends were a bit worried about her and voiced their concerns but Lesley just brushed them aside and said, "Well, I've always wanted to jump out of a plane so that's what I'm going to do!"

On the day of the jump I picked her up expecting to find a nervous wreck, a shivering jelly!! Oh no, she was as calm as anything and eager to go – no nerves, no sleepless night, even ate breakfast! Off we went to Dunkeswell, Lesley chatting away like it was just a little jolly, nothing to worry about, with a "Let's get on with it" attitude.

On arrival we found a very nice man from Skydive who gave Lesley a form to fill in. While he went off to attend to another group Lesley signed the paper, with just a cursory glance at the list of things you had to say that you didn't have, which a lot them she most likely did have. When I pointed this out she replied, "No, I'm sure I haven't got any of those ailments."

It was time for Lesley's briefing. Half an hour passed and a considerable crowd of friends and neighbours from Luppitt had turned up to support her. Out she came in a lovely yellow all-in-one, accompanied by the man whom she was going to be attached to for the duration of the jump – still not nervous, happy and smiling, quite humbled by the good turnout from Luppitt.

Off she went in the plane, with us all wishing her "Goodbye and God speed" on her jump (and all no doubt secretly thinking "I'm glad it's not me").

After the plane had taken off we all went in the transport to the place where she was going to land, so we could welcome her back and take photos. We were told where to look, to get early sightings of her, and waited to see who would be first to spot her. We didn't have to wait long! From a great distance we could see there was a tiny speck in the sky that we were told was Lesley.

We watched her make the descent, waving to her as she got closer and closer. She made a perfect landing and we could see from our vantage point that she was actually smiling, always a good sign! After the parachute was taken off we were then allowed to go and congratulate her. She was, apart from being a bit wobbly, in a euphoric state of happiness. So it was hugs and kisses all round and total respect for a really brave lady. Her instructor was very impressed too and praised her courageous spirit.

The amount of money collected will be announced in the next issue of the Luppitt Packet. There is still time to donate if you would like to contribute.

Lesley would like to thank everyone who donated and for the huge support that she has had from our community.

Well done, Lesley! We look forward to your wing walk next year!!

The Universal Light

To you who are seekers, to you, young and old who have toiled all night and caught nothing, but who want to launch out into the deeps and let down your nets for a draught, I want to speak as simply, as tenderly, as clearly as I can. For God can be found. There is a last rock for your souls, a resting-place of absolute peace and joy and power and radiance and security. There is a Divine Center into which your life can slip, a new and absolute orientation in God, a Center where you live with Him and out of which you see all of life through new and radiant vision, tinged with new sorrows and pangs, new joys unspeakable and full of glory... The reality of Presence has been very great at times recently. One knows at first hand what the old inquiry meant, 'Has Truth been advancing among you?'

CLERK'S REPORT OF A MEETING OF LUPPITT PARISH COUNCIL HELD AT LUPPITT VILLAGE HALL ON TUESDAY, 5 OCTOBER 2021 AT 8 PM

Present: Cllrs Michele Turner (Vice-Chair), Beth Hooper, Paul Prettejohn, Christine Ryder, Martin Summers, Andrew Tucker, David Key (EDDC), Iain Chubb (DCC) and Rosalind Buxton (Parish Clerk)

Receive apologies for absence

Apologies were received from Cllrs John Thorne, Brian Pulman and Colin Brown (EDDC). Cllr Turner took the Chair in Cllr Thorne's absence and welcomed everyone to the meeting.

Minutes of previous meeting

The Minutes of the meeting held on Tuesday, 7 September 2021, were unanimously agreed and signed as a correct record of that meeting (proposed by Cllr Ryder and seconded by Cllr Turner).

Declaration of Interest

There were no declarations of interest.

PI ANNING

Applications (for comment, support or objection)

21/1922/FUL – 10 Millrise, Luppitt, EX14 4UA – off road parking in the front gardens of properties 9 & 10 Millrise. The Parish Council has no objection to this planning application.

Field north of Millrise (Cllr Key)

Cllr Key has visited the site and confirmed that the foundations are for a barn, not a house. Cllr Tucker queried whether the planning approval which was granted in 2012 had expired. Cllr Key said that the installation of the cattle grid within 3 years of planning approval being granted meant that work had started on site and the planning approval was still valid.

Noise disturbance at Higher Wick

The clerk read out an email that had been sent to Cllr Thorne by someone who has walked regularly on Dumpdon Hill. The writer had been disturbed by the noise of metal works coming from a farm at Higher Wick. The matter was discussed and Cllr Key confirmed that the Enforcement Officer will visit the premises to assess the situation. Cllr Tucker pointed out that there would be less traffic now than there would have been when it was a working farm. Cllr Key will keep the Parish Council informed.

Decisions

20/2058/MFUL – Otter Falls, New Road, Upottery, EX14 4QD – Development of holiday units. Approval with conditions.

Neighbourhood Plan (website)

Cllr Turner advised that she is meeting Roger Hicks and is bringing the Neighbourhood Plan website up to date with the latest information. Reference was made to an email from Angela King outlining progress of the Local Plan and its relationship with made and emerging Neighbourhood Plans.

HIGHWAYS AND TRAFFIC

Parish Highways programme - update on Items to Report as follows:

Potholes at triangle at Hartridge, Jack's House and Barn Cross – all completed. No progress on the following items which will be reported again by the clerk - Ringborough Cross to Coombeshead and pothole between Overday and Gully Lane.

RTA Temporary Restriction

Notice received that the road past Lowmans Farm, Beacon, will be closed on Friday, 17 December 2021, for location and clearing of a blockage.

Road at Stonehayes

Cllr Tucker pointed out that the good work carried out to repair the road by Stonehayes has been undermined because the ditch is too shallow and water still runs over the road. Cllr Chubb undertook to follow up and report back to the Parish Council.

Parish Maintenance

Cllr Tucker is working on the quote to repair potholes in the parish identified by Cllrs Pulman and Thorne.

Sandbag requirements

Cllr Tucker has a sufficient supply of sandbags.

FOOTPATHS AND BRIDI FWAYS

Footpath Wardens' Reports. Nothing to report.

Work on Footpath 14

Cllr Tucker and Gavin Brake had a successful meeting with Ros Davies, Parish Paths Liaison Officer at Devon County Council and Richard Spurway, DCC Footpath Warden, to discuss a possible diversion to avoid the boggy area on this footpath.

ENVIRONMENT/COMMUNITY FACILITIES

Playground initiative

Cllr Summers reported that the working group has made substantial progress, not only in gathering information about equipment but also fundraising ideas and events planned. The parishioner leading the project has been in touch with the clerk who in turn has provided information as requested. A Crowdfunding page has been set up and it is hoped to raise £3,000 by the end of October. This sum will enable the group to be eligible to apply for grants from EDDC and DCC. Cllr Chubb has agreed to donate £1,000 from the Locality budget and it is hoped that a grant application to the National Lottery Fund will also be successful. The Parish Council recognises that the parishioner organising the project has worked extremely hard. The Parish Council will continue to support the project where it can.

Village Hall Representative

Cllr Summers has agreed to be the Parish Council representative on the Village Hall Management Committee. The clerk has written to the secretary of the Management Committee to confirm.

Green Ambassador

Cllr Turner has approached the parishioner concerned and is waiting to hear the parishioner's decision.

Airfield Visit

This item was postponed to the November meeting. Cllr Prettejohn gave Cllr Turner a contact number.

Notice Board at Beacon

Cllr Pulman was not at the meeting so could not report on progress. This item will be discussed at the November meeting.

FINANCE AND ADMINISTRATION

Correspondence

An email from Devon Communities publicising forthcoming events was noted. The clerk will book Cllr Tucker on the webinar on the Importance of Hedges and Cllr Turner on the one concerning Dark Skies. The clerk will establish if these webinars are only available for Parish Councillors to attend.

Half-yearly figures

The clerk had not received the September bank statement but, once this is received, will complete the figures and present them at the November meeting.

CHAIRMAN'S DISCRETION

The clerk will book Cllr Turner on a Chairman's course run by DALC to be held via Zoom on 22 November.

The clerk has been advised by Cllr Pulman that a risk assessment and safety inspection have been carried out at the play area at Millrise with no problems arising. The clerk has not received a safety certificate so will follow up.

Cllr Tucker raised the matter of water running into the gardens at Millrise. The clerk was asked to follow up but since the meeting Cllr Tucker has confirmed that the matter has been resolved.

QUESTIONS FROM THE PUBLIC

There were no questions and the meeting closed at 9.05 pm.

Date for next meeting to be held in Luppitt Village Hall at 8 pm: Tuesday, 2 November 2021
