Vault 1964

During bell ringing practice on the evening of 11th February 1964. Mr Lawrence Rowland showed me at the base of a grave he had been digging for the coffin of Mrs Churchill, brick and stone masonry work some of which it was necessary to remove. Mr Jack Middleton had previously reported finding similar work at the base of the adjoining grave due east from this one similar masonry work. About 2 course of brick was removed which was just in the grave space and behind which flint stone masonry was built. The length protruding into the grave from the East end was about 2'6". Depth of soil was about 5ft above this. It seemed clear that whatever this was a part of was mostly under the bank to the North of these graves. Overall length of the masonry work would appear to be about 7 or 8 feet. The distance due North of the centre of the wall of the boiler house was about 37 feet and the SW corner of the brickwork appeared to be about 5½ feet ~~Due~~ East from an imaginary line from the edge of the Buttresses of the main Church towers at the NW and SW corners.

Towers

I took samples of the brick to Dr C.A. Raleigh Radford of Culmcott, Uffculme and he thought they were probably of 18th century date and were the base work of a family vault. In view of the depth below existing surface level, he thought that possibly soil level had been made up since the building of the vault, or alternatively the top and sides had at sometime been removed and what was found was the base wall on the South side.

Raleigh Radford

The earlier grave, Miss Dorothy Willey, died 14-9-1956.
