Flood Prevention.

At Tapsterwater East Devon District Council carried out a long awaited flood prevention scheme, by laying a large bore concrete tube from the corner of the House building, accross the road and the small plot below Barnfield orchard, to the river; to take the stream at the back of the cottages coming from Shelf which had caused much trouble in time of flood.

This was done in the Spring of 1988.

Mills — Fifty mills once operated in the Otter valley.
By R. E. Wilson.

Domesday — The mills in the Domesday survey were three each in Colaton Raleigh, Dotton, Talaton, Lower Tale in Payhembury, Broadhembury, Gittisham, Awliscombe, Honiton, Luppitt, Combe Raleigh, Upottery and Yarcombe.

mill M.O. Luppitt mill was one of four grist mills and two tucking mills in Ottery Mohun, Monkton, Luppitt, Upottery, etc., purchased by Sir Peter Carew of Mohun's Ottery in 1563. Towards the end of the eighteenth century it was owned by Sir George Yonge Bt. of Escot. Members of the Davey family were the millers for several generations, Robert John Davey being there in 1939 when milling ceased. The mill building was rebuilt in 1875; a date stone shows this and also the initials C.P.B.

It is a fine four-storey stone building within which the machinery is still in position; the waterwheel, however, is disintegrating and was out of true before the war when the then miller thought it would cost too much to have it renovated. There was a shaft which ran through into the adjacent house to operate milk separators.

A tragedy occurred at this mill when an 18 month old son of the Davey's, finding the door open, ran outside and fell into the leat, and was drowned.

Tales our place-names tell. By Mary Collier

"The lovely valley" That is the name, according to an ancient chronicler, from which Luppitt derives. For once its valley housed a religious community who husbanded its slopes. Today no certain record remains to us; it could have been a Cistercian order dependant upon one of the great Cistercian monasteries of Forde, Newenham or even Dunkeswell Luppitt W.I.

Luppitt W.I. halts after 30 years. Nov 1976.

After more than 30 years Luppitt W.I. is to be suspended for a year, despite an appeal by the voluntary county organiser, Mrs H.M. Blackmore, that with 27 members they should keep going. It is hoped that after the break a new committee can be formed to get it going again. The 12-month closure decision was taken at the annual meeting last week.

It is understood that there were not enough volunteers to serve on the committee, from which the officers are chosen. Members agreed that the president Mrs E Blackmore should take charge of the W.I. equipment and possessions for the time being.

Before the suspension of the Branch was decided the secretary Mrs Thorne gave a detailed account of the years work and Mrs Ford-Mizon presented the accounts, which are to be audited by Mrs Weber. Mrs Ewins was in charge of the stall and Mrs M Clapp and Mrs Watts were tea hostesses.

School 1965

Luppitt School is to close after all.

Western Times 11/1965

County Education Committee told that most parents are in favour.

Devon County Education Committee decided at Exeter yesterday to go ahead with plans to close Luppitt Voluntary Primary School in East Devon. The Committee were told that the majority of parents of children there were in favour of having them transferred to Upottery Primary School.

Mr John Halse attempted to get the committee to defer a decision on closing and to set up a sub committee to deal with the whole question of closing village schools. But he was heavily defeated.

At a recent county council meeting he had moved reference back of the closing of Luppitt School, and this was carried by one vote. Yesterday he said that the schools at Dunkeswell and Smeatharpe had already been closed, but that there were now 53 children – 36 of them of primary school age – travelling from Dunkeswell to Honiton and back each day.

"No effort has been made to re-align the catchment area in order to retain a single one of the schools," he said. "It would not alarm me so much if precisely the same thing had not happened in other parts of East Devon." Mr Halse thought that they should look into the whole ~~matter~~ manner in which rural areas were being depleted of schools.

The county's chief education officer (Mr W. E Philip) read a letter from parents of 12
